BRADY HAWKINS is an Associate at Legacy Commercial Property Advisors, focused on industrial sales and leasing throughout Tulsa and northeast Oklahoma. He represents landlords, tenants, buyers and sellers across warehouse, distribution and flex-industrial properties, helping clients align real estate decisions with their broader operational and investment goals.

Brady earned a Bachelor of Science in Marketing, with a Minor in Supply Chain Management, from the University of Arkansas. That background gives him a practical understanding of the logistics, distribution and operational drivers behind industrial real estate, and shapes a consultative, client-first approach rooted in active listening and problem-solving. He brings that approach to every assignment, working closely with Legacy's principals to deliver informed, strategic guidance from initial site selection through closing.

Outside the office, Brady served as captain of the University of Arkansas club soccer team, where he developed the leadership, communication and teamwork skills he now brings to client relationships. He enjoys golf, soccer and spending time with friends and family.
